LETTER FROM THE COMMISSIONER

We welcome you to the Greatest Show on Ice, the NAHL Showcase. It's hard to believe that this is the 20th NAHL Showcase, which began all the way back in 2003. How far we have come since then!

The NAHL Showcase is the greatest hockey spectacle in the world as we celebrate the start of another hockey season with all our teams, players, parents, fans, scouts, partners, and volunteers at the greatest hockey facility in the world, the NSC Super Rink here in Blaine.

If a player's goal is to play NCAA hockey and beyond, the NAHL has proven to be one of the best places to accomplish those goals. It is thanks in large part to our committed ownership, who all take a financial risk by providing players top quality coaching, skill development, and community-supported teams in stable markets, and one-of-a-kind events that provide unparalleled exposure.

Our continued success and record number of NCAA commitments is the direct result of the talent level of players, our experienced coaches, the development and continued relationships with the NCAA and NHL, the performance and advancement of players once they leave the NAHL, and the continued commitment of the owners to provide an opportunity and a place to play.

This year's NAHL Showcase is an important part of our event structure, which serves as another opportunity for hundreds of NHL and NCAA scouts to get a first look at players. Our NAHL Top Prospects Tournament in February and the NAHL

Roberson Cup Championship in May also draw hundreds of scouts as we continue to provide world-class events for our players.

In addition to another season of great exposure events, the NAHL has some exciting new technology in place this season, which includes video review of goals and video coaching to bench. These technologies are a first for the NAHL as we look to keep pace and evolve with the rest of the hockey world with the advancement of technology that makes our game and product better for our players, coaches, scouts, and fans.

This is truly an once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for players to develop, grow and mature so that they may become better hockey players and better people. We continue to ensure that the competition and league-wide events remain at the highest level, while also maintaining a focus on educating our players about NCAA compliance and the importance of education.

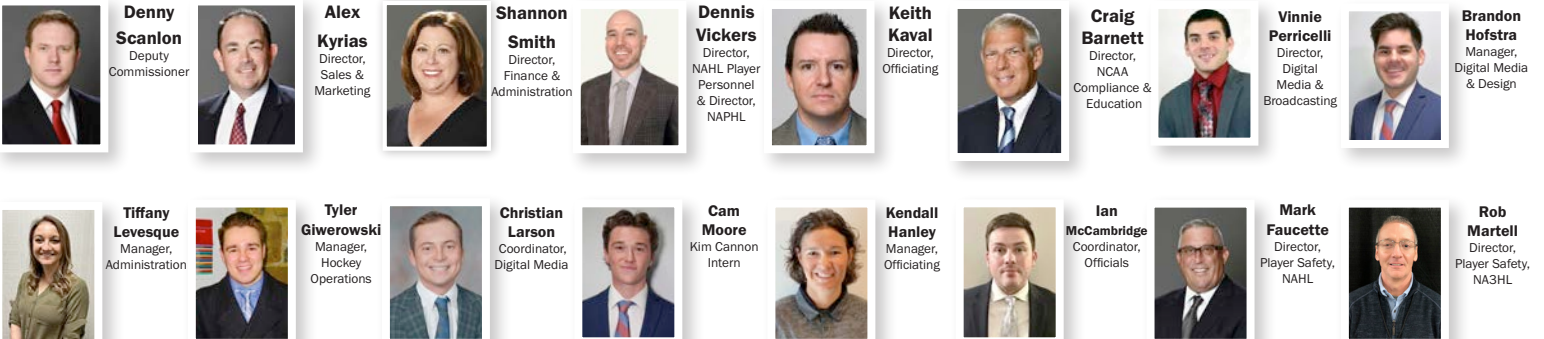

A big part of our success lies within the NAHL family of leagues, which includes the North American Prospects Hockey League (NAPHL), which specializes in elite youth development, and the North American 3 Hockey League (NA3HL), a first-step developmental junior league. Each year we experience more in season movement and more advancement up the ladder of development than the year before.

On behalf of all our teams, thank you again for your continuing support of our student-athletes. The support the league and its players receive from our fans and respective NAHL communities is why we are able to enjoy the game we all love, and we can't thank you enough for making the NAHL the best junior league in all of North America.

Best of luck to all the teams and players this weekend!

Mark Frankenfeld
President & Commissioner, North American Hockey League

From Hockey Mom to Championship Owner

By: Neal Boudette/USAHockey Magazine

Mary Anne Choi's unlikely path to becoming the NAHL's first woman majority owner started following her own son's journey through the junior hockey ranks.

Mary Anne Choi came up with a wild idea four years ago. An anesthesiologist from Dallas, Choi had seen her son, Eric Huss, fight, sweat, and fret his way up through three seasons of junior hockey. The end result? She saw her son come out of it with the ultimate prize—a spot on an NCAA Division I hockey roster.

But now that Eric was moving on to the United States Military Academy, Choi began wondering if there was a way she could help other young players. Then it came to her: she could start a new franchise in the North American Hockey League.

Her husband and friends had a similar response: "Are you nuts?"

"I was just a hockey mom," Choi laughed. "I had no experience in anything like this. But the more they questioned it, the more driven I was to prove I could do it."

This crazy notion has paid off, though. Last season, in just its third year of existence, Choi's franchise, the Oklahoma Warriors, battled its way to the 2023 Robertson Cup and the NAHL title, defeating the Austin Bruins, 4-3, in a nail-biter of a final.

While women's and girls' hockey is growing rapidly, hockey is still a male-dominated sport. In ownership circles, women are rare at any level. Three NHL franchises—the Anaheim Ducks, Buffalo Sabres, and Colorado Avalanche—are owned by husband-and-wife tandems. All 16 franchises of the USHL, the top junior league in the United States, are owned by men or corporations. It's the same in the NAHL, which is one level down, but still produces large numbers of D1 and D3 college players.

Choi is an unlikely hockey boss. Her parents came from Korea and settled in New Jersey, where Choi was born and grew up playing tennis.

"I knew nothing of hockey," she admitted.

Choi went to college and then medical school, where she met her husband, Michael Huss, also an anesthesiologist.

They had a daughter, moved to Dallas and had a son. When their son, Eric, was 5, Choi and her husband got him on the ice at a local rink and the boy was hooked. He excelled through years of elite travel hockey, but he wasn't drafted by any junior teams when he turned 18. He tried out for a few NAHL teams—essentially as a walk-on—and fortunately, in his final shot, he was one of the last players taken by the NAHL's Odessa Jackalopes.

Mary Anne Choi, the first woman majority owner in the NAHL

Then came the battle to get playing time and get noticed, all while doing the academic work needed for college. In his second season in Odessa, Eric was traded to the Lone Star Brahmas.

"Junior hockey is a grind," Choi said. "It's 60 games. It's a lot of travel. It is not easy on these kids. Most are away from home and need people to help them and care about them."

When Eric was in his final season in the NAHL, his mother approached the league about starting a new team. It's a big commitment, typically requiring an initial investment of several hundred thousand dollars, plus each season's operating costs on top of that. Choi said she and her husband have been fortunate and successful enough to have the finances to do it. With the league's approval, her franchise, the Wichita Falls Warriors was born. Next, she had to find a coach. But how many hockey coaches are eager to work for a hockey mom? After many calls and inquiries, Choi connected with Garrett Roth, an assistant with the NAHL's Bismarck Bobcats who had played at Bemidji State. In a long phone call, Choi found he had similar views about coaching the players on and off the ice, caring for them as people.

"It was a leap of faith to move, but Mary Anne had a lot of passion," Roth said. "We were on the same page about making sure the players develop and have a first-class experience."

When play started in 2020-21, Choi hired a tutor to keep the players on track with school work and paid for ACT classes. When players were injured, Choi used her medical contacts to connect them to specialists and surgeons in Dallas. They won 30 games and won a playoff series before bowing out in the second round.

If an NAHL championship this past season wasn't enough proof Choi was doing it the right way, there was something else—two near-tragedies that were thankfully averted along the way. Was it karma? Were the hockey gods protecting her for her generosity and love of the game?

"I don't know, but we are very blessed," she said.

Everything seemed to be going fine as an owner. But during her second season, three of Choi's players were driving home when the franchise was still located in Wichita Falls, Texas, and the driver of a white Kia Soul cut them off, pulled out a gun and fired. A 17-year old player was hit in the leg.

Luckily, the wound was not life-threatening. However, it was a shock for the team. Choi hired a counselor to help the players through the trauma.

"I just thought, 'If it was my child, what would I want the team to do'" Choi said.

The player returned to the lineup and the Warriors finished the season with 35 wins before losing in the playoffs. But there was a bigger problem. The city of Wichita Falls decided on a new plan for its civic arena. Choi suddenly had to scramble to find a new home. Dozens and dozens of phone calls resulted in a move to Oklahoma City. Choi admits the whole ordeal was draining and stressful.

"I give Mary Anne a lot of credit," Roth said. "She can be a bit of a pit bull and I love that about her. She is going to do whatever it takes to achieve success."

The Warriors started the 2023 season on a tear, winning 17 of their first 20 games. Choi was making the 200-mile drive from Dallas for almost every game and was having a blast—until the night of Jan. 5. Back east, Army was playing Sacred Heart, when her son took a heavy check and the opposing player's skate sliced a seven-inch gash along his jaw line, cutting an artery.

After starting the team in Wichita Falls and moving to Oklahoma City, The Warriors brought home the Robertson Cup in May

He was bleeding profusely, but the Army trainer, Rachel Leahy, quickly jumped on the ice, immediately put pressure on the wound, and never let go. In the ambulance, she laid her body on top of Eric and at the hospital kept her grip on the wound until a surgeon was ready in the operating room. It's not an exaggeration to say Leahy saved Eric's life. Incredibly, he returned to the ice three weeks later.

It was another stark reminder that wins and losses aren't always the most important things.

Back in Oklahoma City, the Warriors finished 2023 with the best record in the NAHL, won eight straight playoff games to reach the league's single-game championship with the Austin Bruins.

Austin scored first. The Warriors stormed back to a 3-1 lead. Austin rallied to tie it in the second period. With under four minutes to go, Oklahoma City defenseman Garrett Horsager rifled a blast from the high slot for the eventual game-winner.

In the stands, Choi couldn't hold back the tears as her players killed off a power play and held off a furious Austin push in the final two minutes by diving in front of multiple shots.

Eventually Choi made it to the ice to hug her coach and her players.

"I never would have guessed what we would achieve so soon," Choi concluded recalling the moment. "Not in a million years."

NAHL names Cam Moore as next Kim Cannon Intern

The North American Hockey League is pleased to announce that Cam Moore has been selected as the next recipient of the Kim Cannon Internship. He will begin his duties in the NAHL office on August 1st.

The Kim Cannon Internship was established back on June 2, 2021, by the NAHL, in cooperation with Tampa Bay Lightning Head Coach and former NAHL head coach Jon Cooper and is intended for a recent college graduate interested in pursuing a career in sports. Moore takes over for Tyler Giwerowski, who was the second Kim Cannon Intern and has stayed on working for the NAHL in a full-time position as Coordinator of Hockey Operations.

It is named for a former employee of an NAHL team named Kim Cannon. Back on September 9, 2020, Cannon was involved in an automobile accident which tragically took her life at the age of 35.

"I am so thankful to be given this opportunity and feel honored to be selected as the next Kim Cannon Intern. Kim's positive impact in the hockey world and the people she's touched along the way is very inspiring and something I hope to replicate in some capacity. I am looking forward to working for one of the best leagues in the world and I can't wait to get started," said Moore.

Moore is a recent graduate of Penn State University (Harrisburg) in Middletown, PA, with a bachelor's degree in marketing and management. While at PSU Harrisburg, he was a member of the ACHA Division II Ice Hockey team where he served as the Team Captain and Team President. He also has served as a management trainee intern for Enterprise Rent-a-Car during his time in college.

Cam Moore joins the NAHL staff for the 2023-24 season.

"The Kim Cannon Internship has been a wonderful springboard to some great young professionals into the sports business world. Tyler, our most recent intern, proved himself very quickly and has now stepped into a full-time role with the NAHL," said NAHL Commissioner and President Mark Frankenfeld. "The finalists this year did not disappoint and made the choice very difficult. In the end, we felt Cam was the best fit for this year's internship and look forward having him a part of our NAHL family this season."

"I would like to congratulate Cam on being named the recipient of the 2023-24 Kim Cannon Internship. I am very proud to be associated with what has become a vital position to the continued growth of the NAHL. It is an annual reminder of who Kim Cannon was and the positive impact she had on all those she touched. I wish Cam good luck and look forward to keeping track of his progress throughout the season," said Jon Cooper, head coach of the Tampa Bay Lightning.

OUR HISTORY

Celebrating its 15th season in 2023-24, the North American Prospects Hockey League (NAPHL) is made up of three Leagues: T1ER (Tier 1), SHOW (Tier I/ II), and the FALL League (September / October Season).

The NAPHL has established itself as one of the premier grounds for development and exposure. The success of teams on the National stage, as well as the success of NAPHL players at the next levels of hockey, is further proof that the NAPHL is redefining exposure and has elevated itself to one of the premier training grounds for development and opportunity.

The NAPHL T1ER League has enjoyed a record-breaking amount of advancement in recent seasons, highlighted by a large amount of T1ER players earning their way to the North American Hockey League. In the last five years, no other USA Hockey Midget Tier I league has had more players play in the NAHL than the NAPHL. In 2023, a total of 95 NAPHL T1ER players were either drafted or tendered by NAHL teams, which set new single-season record. Over 100+ NAPHL alumni are currently rostered in the NAHL, 23 of those current NAHL players, who are NAPHL alumni, made NCAA Division I commitments in 2023. In addition, five former NAPHL players were selected in the 2023 NHL Draft.

In the last three years, no other USA Hockey Midget Tier I league has had more players play in the NAHL than the NAPHL

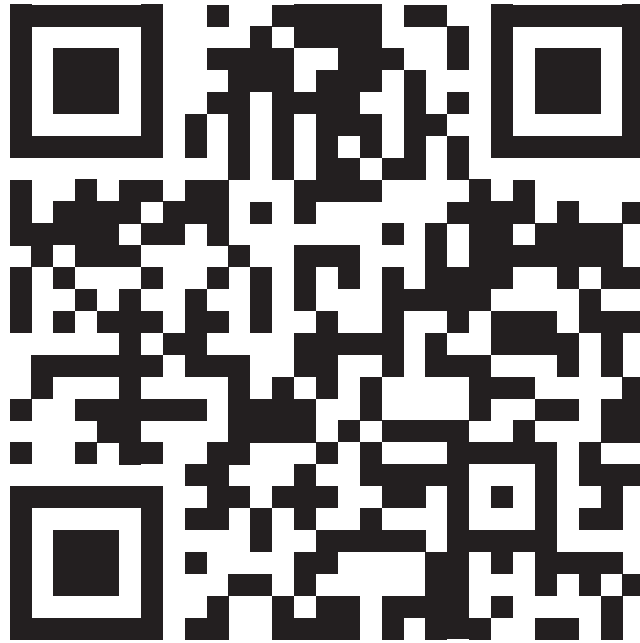

The NAPHL is composed of regular-season events leading up to its Championship Tournament in which the top teams at each level compete for a league championship.

T1ER: The NAPHL's T1ER League is comprised of teams at the 18U, 16U, 15U, and 14U age groups that compete in a full NAPHL season at highest level for USA Hockey, which includes strategically located and scheduled showcases during the 2023-24 season. Additionally, two Showcases for 13U, 12U and 11U teams were created to help educate the players and parents about the T1ER landscape and to provide them a great hockey experience. T1ER teams will compete in a combination of league-wide and regional conference exposure events. The league-wide showcases will continue to bring everyone under one roof to make it easier for the junior and college scouts to attend and evaluate. The regional conference exposure events will cut down on team travel and enhance regional rivalries, all to contain the growing cost of travel and bring more value and excitement to the participants.

SHOW: The SHOW is a collection of Tier I and Tier II organizations from all over North America that compete at the Tier I level at NAPHL events. It also includes teams from some of the strongest Tier II leagues in the United States like the Central States Developmental Hockey League (CSDHL). SHOW teams will compete in a combination of events that include games being played under one roof to make it easier for the junior and college scouts to attend and evaluate. The goal is to create the best opportunity to showcase and advance players, which has increased the movement of players up the ladder of development from the NAPHL to the NA3HL and NAHL. The SHOW League includes an exclusive tendering system and uses NAHL Central Scouting to help promote players for the NAHL and NA3HL Drafts. The SHOW League also competes in cooperation with the NA3HL Showcase, which is annually one of the most well-attended and scouted events of the entire season for the league, attracting hundreds of college and junior scouts alike.

FALL: The FALL League is designed to give U18 and U16 teams the ability to play in a league within a shortened window of time before the Minnesota and Wisconsin high school seasons begin. Each team playing in the NAPHL Fall League will be named after an NAHL team and be represented as such. The NAPHL Fall League events are designed to maximize exposure for the players and bring together teams for like-minded and enhanced competition. Players will also participate in seminars that discuss the NAHL junior hockey experience, the ladder of development, as well as NCAA compliance seminars.

T1ER League Sets New Standard of NAHL Exposure and Development

Following the conclusion of the 2023 NAHL Draft, the North American Prospects Hockey League T1ER League has again set a new standard for advancement and exposure.

The T1ER is pleased to announce 20 current or former players were selected in the 2023 North American Hockey League (NAHL) Draft, which was held on Wednesday, June 14th.

In addition to the 20 players who were drafted, a record number of 75 players who played in the T1ER league during this past 2022-23 season signed NAHL tenders for the upcoming 2023-24 season.

In all, a total of 95 NAPHL T1ER players were either drafted or tendered by NAHL teams for the upcoming 2023-24 season, which is a new single-season record.

Founded in 2009 and entering its 15th season in 2023-24, the NAPHL T1ER League is the premier training ground for development, exposure, and opportunity. The success of teams on the national stage, as well as the success of T1ER players at the next levels of hockey, is further proof that the T1ER League is redefining exposure and has become the marquee place to play for elite level players, ages 13-18.

No other USA Hockey Youth Tier 1 League has had more players play in the NAHL over the course of the last six seasons than the T1ER, which included over 80+ alumni playing in the NAHL during the 2022-23 season. The T1ER primary mission is to provide development and exposure opportunities for players as they advance on the path to one day play high level junior and college hockey.

“The benefits of the NAHL’s ladder of development exposure model that is exclusive to the T1ER League continues to be the foundation of the player advancement success. NAHL teams are seeing these players multiple times throughout a season and their selections are based on in-person scouting by multiple staff members at events. No other youth league in USA Hockey has a model like it and these results are one of the byproducts of the system,” said NAHL Commissioner and President Mark Frankenfeld.

The T1ER is operated by the NAHL’s experienced staff and provides an organized and competitive experience guaranteed to benefit all the participating student-athletes. The T1ER is composed of regular season Showcase and Events leading up to its Championship Tournament in which the top teams at each age level compete for a league championship.

T1ER players are also continuously recognized on the league’s website and social media outlets, which receive millions of page views and social media engagements annually. This also includes broadcasts and play-by-play of every game, highlights from every game on social media, monthly and yearly award recognition, feature stories, and real-time statistics.

Members of the T1ER get the opportunity to attend some of the most dynamic and highly scouted events. Selected events take place during the same time as NAHL events, which usually feature every NCAA Division 1 and every NHL team along with dozens of junior scouts under one roof. No matter what age classification you compete, the T1ER provides the most dynamic vertical exposure structure designed specifically to educate, develop, expose and advance players.
